

General Counsel Ali Fowler

Ali Fowler consults on a variety of business development matters and coordinates the company's legal needs. Along with her impressive educational background, Ali brings a profound capacity for work, a diverse skill set, and a creative eye for establishing brand identity.

Ali received her J.D. from Vanderbilt University School of Law, where she served as Chief Justice of the Moot Court Board and Vice President of the Honor Council. Following law school, she accepted an associate position with Bass, Berry and Sims, PLC, where she practiced law in the litigation department, first in the Nashville office then in Memphis, focusing primarily in the areas of intellectual property and business litigation.

Prior to law school, Ali graduated from Union City High School as Valedictorian and attended the University of Tennessee at Knoxville as a Whittle Scholar, spending her third year at the University of Strathclyde in Glasgow, Scotland.

While at UT Knoxville, Ali was a member of Alpha Omicron Pi Fraternity, the University Honors Program and Student Alumni Association. Additionally, she was accepted as a member of several honor societies including Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Eta Sigma, Gamma Beta Phi, Rho Lambda and Order of Omega. Ali graduated summa cum laude in 1995 with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Psychology and was recognized as a Top Graduate in the College of Arts and Sciences.

Following her undergraduate studies, Ali served as the Official Spokesperson for the Governor's Alliance for a Safe and Drug Free Tennessee as Miss Tennessee 1995. In this role, she represented the state at the Miss America Scholarship Pageant in Atlantic City, winning the Non-finalist Interview Award, and later traveled as an ambassador to Japan to promote Japanese tourism to the states along the Mississippi River. The significant scholarships Ali earned at both the state and national levels were used to fund her legal education.

Ali and her husband Brian have three children, Evie, Jack and Elle. She balances her time as General Counsel with raising and encouraging her busy children and is actively involved in volunteering and fundraising at St. Mary's Episcopal School and Presbyterian Day School. She has served on the Executive Leadership Team for the Mid-South Heart Ball to Benefit the American Heart Association and is a member of the One Club at Regional One Health where her favorite job is "baby cuddler" in the NICU. She enjoys reading, live music, time spent on the water and long walks with friends. Ali and her family are members of Christ United Methodist Church.
